Dear Ms. Best:

This is a final response to your 31 October 2018 Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) request, received in the office of the Information and Privacy Coordinator on 6 November 2018, for the following records: records created by or mentioning the WikiLeaks Task Force, which was officially disclosed by CIA spokesman George Little in 2010. We processed your request in accordance with the FOIA, 5 U.S.C. § 552, as amended, and the CIA Information Act, 50 U.S.C. § 3141, as amended.

We conducted a thorough search for records that would reveal an openly acknowledged CIA affiliation with the subject of your request. We did not locate any records responsive to your request. Although our searches were reasonably calculated to uncover all relevant documents, and it is highly unlikely that repeating those searches would change the result, you nevertheless have the legal right to appeal the finding of no records responsive to your request.

To the extent that your request also seeks records that would reveal a classified association between the CIA and the subject, if any exists, in accordance with Section 3.6(a) of Executive Order 13526, the CIA can neither confirm nor deny the existence or nonexistence of records responsive to your request. The fact of the existence or nonexistence of such records is itself currently and properly classified and is intelligence sources and methods information protected from disclosure by Section 6 of the CIA Act of 1949, as amended, and Section 102A(i)(l) of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended. Therefore, your request is denied pursuant to FOIA exemptions (b)(1) and (b)(3). I have enclosed an explanation of these exemptions for your reference and retention. As the CIA Information and Privacy Coordinator, I am the CIA official responsible for this determination. You have the right to appeal this response to the Agency Release Panel, in my care, within 90 days from the date of this letter. Please include the basis of your appeal.
